Justin Meade

French American born, Justin grew up both in Paris and San Francisco, embracing French and American culture throughout his childhood.

With over 15 years' experience in the luxury wine and spirits industry, Justin started his career in marketing with prestigious Champagne houses in France.

His passion for terroir and exceptional products led him to lead Business Development, Innovation and Retail Development for LOUIS XIII Cognac globally for seven years.

In October 2020, he joined Champagne Telmont with the ambition to build a sustainable wine company through Organic agriculture, bold CO2 reduction initiatives and radical transparency.

He is part of the 17 women and men at Telmont who every day challenge convention in Champagne, acting In the Name of Mother Nature.

Rodolphe de Lapeyrouse

Rodolphe de Lapeyrouse started his career in 1998 in Paris as a passionate entrepreneur with the launch of a travel booking website. The company grew to peak yearly revenues of 25 million euros and expanded into a portfolio of successful website businesses that Rodolphe developed throughout the years.

In 2015, after moving to Mexico for personal reasons, he was approached by a lifelong friend working for Remy Cointreau to join the Louis XIII team in Latin America. For five years, de Lapeyrouse managed the successful development and positioning of the premium cognac label in Mexico. In 2020, the group acquired Telmont Champagne and Rodolphe was invited to lead the launch in the US in 2021. De Lapeyrouse moved to Miami at the beginning of 2022 where he continued working on the expansion of Telmont Champagne in the US and Americas market. Rodolphe lives in Key Biscayne with his wife and their five-year-old little boy.
